8. This Assembly recommends to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja that an economic survey be caused to be made and a report be placed before this House within one year from this date of the existing agricultural and non-agricultural occupations, villages and cottage industries, the existing natural facilities for introducing the existing cottage industries and of similar other particulars in the State so that a driving programme of rural reconstruction scheme may be at once introduced and the same be worked out on a five-year plan in order that the economic condition of the rural population and the State wealth be improved.

Mover.—MR. C. RAJAGOPALACHAR (Tumkur Municipality).

9. The Co-operative Societies in the State are of two kinds, viz., limited and unlimited. The working of the unlimited Societies is not conducive to the advancement and well being of the raiyat population. The Societies sould be such as not to cause either loss or risk to them in any way. Rules regarding the working of the unlimited Societies do not seem to be best suited for the public. This Assembly, therefore, recommends to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja that all the unlimited Societies is the State be converted into limited Societies and that the loss and expenditure resulting thereby be borne by Government as far as possible and thus the increase of the number and value of the Societies be facilitated.

This Assembly, therefore, recommends to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja that the Amildars and Sub-Division Officers be required to actually visit the villages, study the real difficulties of raiyats and landholders and submit reports to Government as to the conditions that actually exist and that arrangements may thus be made for affording needful relief by way of suitable reduction of kandayam to the agriculturists according to the circumstances of each locality without depending upon the mamool pahani of the Village Officers.
